

Reduce, Reuse, Refashion Show

September 27, 2025 | 4:30-6:00 PM | Emerald Coast Science Center

The Emerald Coast Science Center is hosting its first ever eco-friendly fashion show to promote sustainability while shining a light on pollution and single-use materials. This event gives teens and adults the opportunity to showcase the importance of recycling via reclaimed, recycled, or reused materials to craft wearable designs that will be modeled. Please consider providing your support to this cause and raise environmental awareness. You can support the show with one of the following contribution levels:
